

Celeb Salons Features "A Conversation with Kay Kidd" Sunday, September 8 at 4pm

In our continuing Celeb Salons series, we are pleased to present A Conversation with Kay Kidd. Join CCV members, friends and visitors at Mort Subite, 308 Congress, for a lively conversation with Kay.

Kay, a native of Elgin, Texas, is musical director and pianist for her group, Kay and Friends, and performs as a soloist and in ensembles in North America and Europe, in festivals, workshops and recording sessions devoted to chamber music, popular, and folk music. Owning and operating a private piano studio in her home in south Austin, she is a past president and "Teacher of the Year" for the Austin District Music Teachers Association. She is a church organist and pianist and for many years has been the staff pianist for Tarrytown United Methodist Church in Austin. Kay frequently gives lecture/performances on various topics (such as The History of Music in Texas, and other periods and genres of music) for many organizations, schools, and at special events.

Celeb Salons are hosted at Mort Subite, the first authentic Belgian-style pub in the U.S. There is free street parking on Sundays, fully-accessible drop-off at the back entrance from the alley behind the pub. Registration ($30/person) includes one drink and light bites, as well as a tax-deductible donation to Capital City Village.

5th Annual Keep Aging Weird!

Pulitzer-Prize Winning Journalist Ken Herman of the Austin American-Statesman; KXAN's Jim Spencer as MC

5th Annual Keep Aging Weird Luncheon
Tuesday, October 31, 11:00am-1:00pm at Norris Events Center

Join Capital City Village for our 5th annual Keep Aging Weird Luncheon Tuesday, October 31 at 11am. In addition to entertaining speakers, there are a number of enticing "bucket raffles" for items from dinners to trips and more. The lunch is good, and the event is loads of fun. Austin's favorite weatherman, Jim Spencer, keeps things going at a good pace and Ken Herman will be sure to be entertaining!

Columnist Ken Herman began his journalism career in 1975 at The Lufkin Daily News in East Texas. In 1977, he joined The Associated Press in Dallas, later working for the AP in Harlingen and Austin. From 1979-1988 he worked in the AP's Capitol Bureau. In 1988, he became Austin Bureau Chief for The Houston Post. When the Post folded in 1995, Herman joined the American-Statesman as Capitol Bureau Chief.

KAW Sponsor Feature - AARP Texas

AARP Texas is one of our "Quirky" sponsors! AARP is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that empowers people to choose how they live as they age.

At its heart, the work that AARP and its affiliates do can be summed up in just 12 words: "We fight for and equip each individual to live their best life." It's all about real possibilities.

Capital City Village is thankful for our partnership with AARP Texas. Because we are not a lobbying organization, we count on organizations like AARP to advocate at the State and National levels for the rights of seniors. As the Village serves the individual, AARP serves the group, making sure we continue to enjoy all the possible benefits of aging.

Thanks AARP Texas!

50+ in ATX Job Fair

Stop by Capital City Village's table at the 50+ in ATX Job Fair being held at the Jewish Community Center Wednesday, September 10 from 10am to 2pm.

The Austin area has long been one of the fastest-growing metropolitan areas in the country. What most people don't know is that while our overall population grew nearly 40% between 2000 and 2010, the number of us over the age of 55 grew by 80%. Today, the Austin area has the nation's fastest-growing population of people between 55 and 64, and the second fastest-growing population of people 65 and over.

And many of these newcomers are looking for work.

AustinUP, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, is hosting a series of job fairs in 2019 to match available job opportunities with workers who are 50+. The free events will be held in different locations to help potential employees connect with employers located in or close to their neighborhoods. By creating these job fair events, AustinUP is working to enlighten business leaders and human resource directors about the strengths of older adults in the workplace, as well as the value of a multigenerational workforce.
